

Investing in our children, our families and the future of our community.

Children's Hospital of The King's Daughters was founded more than 50 years ago on the premise that every child deserves equal access to the best possible pediatric care. Today, CHKD works to identify and meet the most pressing healthcare needs of our community's young people through a diverse offering of community benefit programs and services. CHKD's community benefits ease the government's burden of caring for our region's neediest and most vulnerable children. Our community benefit programs also subsidize medical services available nowhere else in the area, advance knowledge of children's health issues, and help build a safer, healthier community for all of our children. In the year that ended June 30, 2016, CHKD's total community benefit expenses, minus offsetting revenue, topped $100 million.

Greyson, age 2, of Yorktown was born weighing 1 pound, 9 ounces and spent 200 days in CHKD's NICU.

Medicaid and Charity Care

CHKD has always cared for every child who needs our services, regardless of their ability to pay or what kind of insurance they have. In 2016, 62 percent of CHKD's inpatient days were covered by Medicaid, which paid us $27.7 million less than our true cost of providing care. The hospital also provided $2 million in charity care.

Subsidized Health Services

CHKD provides the specialized services children need to receive care close to home and school during a health challenge. Examples of our subsidized services include our childhood cancer program, our pediatric weight-management program, our child abuse program, behavioral and mental health services and urgent care.

Community Health Improvement

CHKD works with local partners and agencies to formally assess the pediatric healthcare needs in our community and design program to meet them. Examples of these programs include our neonatal outreach program, medical social work, our community outreach program, parenting classes and costs associated with the development of our community benefit program.

Education and Research

As the regional authority on pediatric health and wellness, CHKD invests in education and research that advances the understanding of pediatric medicine and shares this knowledge with community partners. In addition, we are committed to the future care of children through our pediatric residency program and fellowships in fields such as child abuse and pediatric emergency medicine.
